“Public service is my calling in life. As a financial professional, I have an opportunity to strengthen the individual families and business owners who make our community such a wonderful place to live.”

A bank officer for 14 years before joining Innovative Financial Group in 2010, Tony Adams has a passion for helping others and a determination to make a difference. He makes it his mission to understand each client on an individual level and to work side by side with them on developing a financial strategy that will lead them to their personal goals.

As a financial professional, Tony specializes in small and mid-sized business owners, as well as middle-income couples who are planning for retirement. He is committed to helping families and businesses understand, establish, and achieve their financial goals. In addition to his work at IFG, Tony is currently serving as a county commissioner for District 9 in Dickson County, Tenn. He is also on the Dickson County Housing Authority’s board of directors.

With a bachelor’s degree from MTSU and an MBA from Belmont University, Tony is insurance and securities licensed in the state of Tennessee. Services include investment and retirement strategies, estate planning, qualified and nonqualified retirement plans, employee compensation and benefits strategies, key person insurance, and business continuation strategies.

Tony resides in the city of Dickson with his wife, Jennifer. They have two daughters, Jhe’ Dienne and Montgomery Elizabeth, and two sons, Harris and Bristol.
